

Kodoish, Kadoish, Kadoish (Holy, Holy, Holy)
Adonai `Tsebayoth (Is the Lord God of Hosts)
(Sacred language of Ancient Hebrew)

The Kodoish is the measure of the cycle and the beat of all states of matter/radiation, and most of all- resonance, which is the common factor uniting the lower vibratory levels with the higher levels of creation.

Even the human heartbeat, with its biological clocks, is set according to the function of the Kodoish. It ties together all biorhythms of the body with the spiritual rhythms of the Overself (Higher Self) body, so that all circulatory systems operate with one cosmic heartbeat.

The Kodoish is considered a "Holy Code" which enables the body to connect to the Masters Of Light. This energy exchange is important to the higher needs of the human incarnation. This "sacred language" is used because it is not primarily a language of words, letters or pronunciation, but the thoughts of GOD emanating as flame projections. These thought projections of flame carry a unique sound that is resonance with the Throne. And these sound and thought projections are also used in the highest worlds of Light, not only as a source of communication, but of creation.

These flame projections are used to evolve creation because they can seed ideas into consciousness which can be maintained for extremely long periods of time. No other song in the heavens can directly manifest Divine Love so powerfully to elemental forms of creation, than this divine mantra of the Father's Throne.

The Kodoish creates the mental, spiritual time warps within your body which allows you to grow from a small microcosm into the next level of Godhead.